

We are a team of marketing and communications veterans with a rare combination of strategic creative thinking and financial technical know-how. We create messaging and design that resonate with your target audiences and win you business.

We are passionate about our work and our dedication to our clients. We see ourselves as a powerful marketing ally. A resource that you can rely on to free your people, free your capital, and free your time so that you can focus on your core business.

Headquartered in Chicago, we have been delivering seamless marketing solutions to the financial services industry since 1976. Our clients include premier investment management firms, national financial institutions, independent community banks, and well-known mutual fund families.

Our experienced team knows the financial services industry and can hit the ground running. Team members:

- » Average more than 15 years of financial services experience
- » Previously worked for the exchanges, large mutual fund companies, investment managers, or consultants
- » Held Series 6, 63, 26, and 7 licenses or served as certified financial planners or consultants

s2 can be your single source for totally integrated marketing services
